Comments: We are lucky that authorities in the UK allow ebikes of 250w to ride in the same places where regular mountain bikes are allowed. It therefore has been proven that low powered eMTB bikes are no more a threat to public safety or to the land than regular bikes. As a rider from the UK who may visit your area there is a chance that I would be interested in hiring an ebike to ride in your wonderful countryside as I have done in several EU countries, you may be missing out on potential income from myself and others. Please consider allowing access to ebikes not only for the enjoyment of able bodied riders but also for those who may have some health restrictions and need the extra assistance an ebike can give.
