Comments: I strongly encourage the Forest Service to allow class 1 electric bikes on single track trails under its jurisdiction. For several years, I volunteered a California State Park, primarily doing trail maintenance. Class 1 electric bikes were allowed on all the non-wilderness trails in the park, and I never observed any trail damage attributed to this type of bike, nor witnessed any dangerous situations arising from electric bike use. As I grow older, I can foresee a day when an electric bike will allow me to continue to enjoy trail riding safely.
