Comments: The popularity of electric bicycles is increasing rapidly, especially among seniors. I used to ride many of the great Forest Service roads and trails on my conventional bike but now, at 74, I'm no longer able to ride as much as I used to.

Electric bicycles have allowed me to once again enjoy the sport on city streets and park trails. I would dearly love to be able to ride the Forest Service roads & trails I enjoy so much on my e-bike.

E-bikes pose no more of a threat to the environment or to other people than conventional bikes. Contrary to popular belief, they don't go any faster, spin the wheels or make noise.

Please consider opening your wonderful forest lands to these modern bikes so that seniors can continue to enjoy the great outdoors.

Thank you for your consideration.
