Comments: I am no longer able to hike or pedal without assistance. I believe as long as there is human energy required to help move the vehicle then vehicles that fit certain dimensions should be allowed on all public lands. Also if the person has a handicap sticker then full assistance should be allowed for vehicles that fall into the same dimensional requirements. All public lands are for all people and should be made available for all to enjoy should they want to even if equipment is required and supplied by those individuals.

However I also believe that there should be significant support for motorized vehicles that are on separate trails.

Our public lands can and should support all types of access, it is good for the economy and the health of all responsible users.
