Comments: Thank you for the chance to comment on ebike use of the national forests. For many years my husband and I have hiked and backpacked through our beautiful national forests. Since the forests are a national treasure for all, I think that they should be available for all. If a normal bike is allowed, ebikes should be allowed so that all may access them. Bikes have a tendency to rut the trails deeply and high volume of mountain bikes do damage the trails. Horses make a mess that all have to step over. The only low impact to the trails is people walking. if horses and mountain bikes can access trails, ebikes should be able to also.
