Comments: As an avid rider on NSFS trails in West Virginia, I find the use of e-bikes a danger to hikers and other non-powered bikes. These bikes are able to go fast UP the hills posing as issue for hikers and bikes not expecting something to be coming around the corner and out-of-sight so quickly.

They are nearly silent as they ascend the hills while reaching speeds close to 20mph - too fast for regular mountain bike trails. If they are to be used they should be given access to motorized trails where ATV's currently ride.
