Comments: To whom it may concern,

I have recently become aware of the threat to the headwaters of the South Fork of the Salmon River posed by the Stibnite gold mine project. The South Fork of the Salmon River is a national treasure. I have made numerous trips to the area to paddle and fish in its waters. The possibility that this pristine wilderness area is endangered by an irreversible, extractive project is a grave concern. At the very least, the government agencies that grant permit for such a project should extend the period for public comment in order to ascertain the public's appetite for the exchange of this national treasure.

Thank you for your consideration.
