

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/9/2020 3:40:31 PM

First name: Joe

Last name: Carlino

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The biggest problem I see with the word E-Bikes is that people right away think it has a throttle and people are going to tear up the land like a gas powered dirt bike.

I feel that pedal assist bikes should be legal on all trails. These bikes are letting us adventure further, see new places and ride more. Not only for the advanced riders, but getting older riders, new riders and women the opportunity to ride 25 miles in a day or 5,000 verticals feet.

I think if "EMTB" or pedal assist is a term for how to determine what has more access. I by no means want throttle powered bikes legal on all hiking trails. I just don't see the difference from a beginner ride at 15mph on an ebike vs a pro racer on a downhill bike riding at 25-30mph.

I think everyone got off on the wrong foot by lumping pedal assist bikes in with "e motor bikes".

Thank you for the time!