

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/9/2020 5:09:54 PM

First name: Scott

Last name: Wagner

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Electric Mountain bikes should be treated no differently than other motorized vehicles. They are dangerous to hikers, mountain bikers and the environment. They can achieve uphill speed that is dangerous to downhill users, their weight creates unmanageable force to the user. Battery failure can cause fire danger. Many agencies and land managers have come to this conclusion. Motorized vehicles have many options for use in national forest.