Comments: A very comprehensive and well documented management plan. Proactive forest management is vital to the success of our National Forest.

My only concern would be the Forest Service's plan on access to these new areas. As a land owner contiguous to the National Forest, I see power vehicles (e.g. 4-Wheelers) within the forest and we also see illegal timber harvests occurring. If these new areas become more accessible, they also may experience these activities. The access should be limited to foot traffic whenever possible.
