Comments: I hiked twice a week for three months this summer. Multiple times I stepped off the trail to let bikes go by. On at least three occasions I had to jump off the trail to avoid being hit. On many occasions I would walk in front of the group or behind our group to be able to watch and warn others on the hike or to slow down bikers. If e-bikes are allowed on other than motorized trails people are going to get hurt. A motor is a motor.
