Comments: I currently ride an emtb due to restricted lung capacity at the age of forty. This has allowed me to continue to get good exercise and ride with my friends without slowing me down. I have been disheartened to learn after I purchased it that there are mtb trails that will not allow emtb. It makes no sense to me. Class 1 bikes which I ride are wonderful and cause no additional damage. I recently took a trip to Moab and I couldn't ride on some of the best trails because of the current rules. I really don't understand it. I believe the rules need to be changed and allow class 1 e bikes
