Comments: I think that wilderness areas are precious and I never want to hear the thrum of a motor if I don't have to. That being said, I have been passed by many people on ebikes that I never heard. I think that a study needs to be done to determine if ebikes cause more damage to trails than non-motorized bikes. If they do not cause more damage and they are quiet then I am all for sharing the trail, especially since bike use of trails in general is already quite limited.
