Comments: It's my belief that the benefits of opening up class 1 e-bike access to more trails outweigh the drawbacks. I don't have research to stand behind, but if we look at the popularity and success of e-bikes in Europe, it's apparent they aren't going away anytime soon.

As an older individual and owner of an e-bike, I have been encouraged to ride more and longer distances than I'm accustomed to. The benefits to both my physical and mental health have been welcomed especially over the course of the last year.

Having more options would be positively welcomed
