Comments: I believe e-bikes should be considered motorized vehicles based on the fact that they have a motor and cannot be regulated once they are in the field.

By creating classes, but having no way to measure performance or even recognize one from another in the field, you will be allowing electric motorcycles in to spaces designated for non-motorized use.

Human powered bikes are by their nature limited by the power of the human and can exist with other human powered sports. Electric bikes are in line with power sports and should be placed in that category.

Thank you.
