Comments: The difference between motorized and non-motorized travel is pretty clear cut. Incorporating battery powered vehicles with electric motors into the "non-motorized" category does not make sense to me. E-bikes are motorized. Currently most of these are not very powerful motors but that is likely to change in the near future. Soon the difference in performance between an E-bike and a internal combustion gas powered motorcycle will be indistinguishable. Let's keep the categories of motorized and non-motorized trails.

Thank you.
