Comments: As an avid equestrian, we already have a lot of trouble on the trail with regular bike riders. E-bikes can go much faster and can cause more danger to horse and rider. I have had many friends get crashed into by bicyclists coasting extremely fast downhill or around a corner. I, myself, have had several close calls. Some of the bicyclists are apologetic but many try to blame us for being in the way. I disagree with the allowance of e-bikes on the trails. I think if they had to license their bike and with that there was a test or certification of the rules of the trail, that would go a long way with hikers and equestrians.
