Comments: Before the pandemic, I commuted to work on my e-bike nearly everyday. Now that I am working from home, I don't get to ride to work. I love my e-bike. I also love my mountain bike. They are two completely different tools, for completely different uses. Humans have had an overwhelming impact on our natural world through recreation. I fear that allowing more e-bike use in our national forests will have a deleterious effect on the nature of our national forests. Trails are already busy, and the recreation resources are nearly full. Please keep it the way it is. Classify e-bikes as what they are: motorized vehicles. Please do not permit them in any locations that are not already open to motorized vehicles.
