Comments: I strongly oppose allowing ebikes on trails reserved for non-motorized use. Preserving the wild life and natural state of those areas must take priority. Manual trail bikes require the riders to pay attention to the trail but ebike riders are more likely to attempt trails they are not prepared for. That can result in damage to the land and increased situations that require rescues. Ebikes travelling at speeds of 20-30 mph will disrupt and even endanger hikers who have to share those trails.
