Comments: Please do not allow e-bikes into any roadless areas. I urge you to treat them as cars. In my experience, the easier it is for someone to access a part of the wilderness, the less respect they have to keep it wild. Litter accumulates much more than it does on hiking trails that require your own leg power to get in. Wildlife suffers with both the noise and the quickness. I know they are not seeing the true balance of nature. Do they even realize how much they are disturbing it?
