

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/21/2020 6:59:41 PM

First name: Leslie

Last name: Limberg

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Where oh where can us stressed Americans go for peace & quiet?

We need a refuge where our anger can dispel, our frustrations can let go, & where we can fully breathe clean air to heal our covid plagues lungs.

Must we succumb to noise in every park? Must our people drive speeds to thrill in everywhere we go? Some of us prefer the sound of birds & wind in trees. We prefer to relax away the helter-skelter of our roads we hear everyday back home. We go to our parks for rest & healing, which comes with the softness, the magic of nature itself.

Please help us have a few reliable places left to rejuvenate quietly & softly where our brains & blood pressure can restore our soul.