

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/21/2020 7:34:51 PM

First name: Deb

Last name: Giannetti

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Opening our national forests or national parks up to increased activity especially with motorized or electric bikes is a threat to the habitat and the animals that live there. These ecosystems are fragile and this type of activity will cause irreparable harm. We need to respect and protect our last wild places and save them for future generations.