Comments: Aloha,

I am an avid biker and love riding off-road. however, 1) some trails are better left to hikers/walkers and 2) there is a huge difference between an e-bike and non-motorized ones.

the sanctity of wilderness, open space and forest is needed more now than ever. technology is crowding our lives and our brains. We need respite. And where else will we have to be in unfettered Nature if our public natural spaces are opened to more noise, more hurry, more speed, more technology?

Please use your wisdom, understanding and integrity to say "no" to e-bikes in our national parks and other wild spaces.

thank you for considering my views which are shared by many people I know who are also cyclists.

sincerely,

Janice Palma-glennie

ps I'm not afraid to identify myself and my views publicly. how else will people know I'm not a robot?
