Comments: What is the purpose of doing this. If(?), which is unlikely, it is done to help handi-capped person, then it might have some merit. However, it leads me to believe there is further degradation of the National Forests at hand. Again, the current administration is reducing all potential positives to negatives and doing it as close as is humanly possible to the election so that people will not be aware of it.

It seems to lead to an attempt to monetarize these areas, which usually in present tense means pocket change for the president and his family; AND having ZERO regard for the American people to whom it belongs. This is Like Christ changing his mind and bringing back the money changers to the Temple!, but with a surcharge for the Trump brand.
