Comments: Due to recent wildfire issues, this issue is one that should be put on the back burner until our forest land can be revitalized in a healthy way. Hikers have a better plan for seeing the incredible lands that we ALL value. Let's look at the bigger picture and put all of our energy into bringing these lands back in a way that can be appreciated. Some effort into building a stronger plan to help with replanting or clearing what is remaining would be a great idea, possibly involving some of the groups who would value the service to this incredible idea.
