Comments: Many ecosystems make this planet, and all aspects, plant and animal, are vital crucial for our very existence. That should be , but is not, a simple concept even for the typical vile cruel human creature. We need nature; nature does not need us and is in a better situation without us. Nature and life are precious to be protected. Such silly human entrails as e-bikes, push bikes, motor bikes and any and all such mechanical devices are not to be permitted. Walk gently, open your senses, and enjoy and savour nature and life with awe.
