Comments: can we please continue to exclude unnecessary noise and speed devices from quiet places. don't we all already have enough noise and speed in our everyday lives. more importantly -not subject wildlife to more human caused noise and speedy vehicles. by the way, anything electric can be a fire hazard.

I say this as someone who lived in the quiet Minnesota north woods as a child, then in Minneapolis as a young adult until I could no longer take it, then 33 years ago, escaped back to nature to a forested property in Oregon. I agree with E.O. Wilson that humans need nature - nature as clean and quiet as that in which we evolved; and I think we would be a healthier species surrounded by nature. call me unrealistic -it works for me and I've seen it work for many others.
