Comments: Any new intrusions by vehicles of an sort into a protected area of wilderness will inevitably result in the approval of more and more intrusions, resulting in the deterioration of the quality of the experience for those of us that value being in a solely natural environment!!! First it's minor change, but that quickly offends people who want more changes that will benefit themselves. Wild lands are intended to be wild FOREVER and should be left in that state regardless of any stated objections by persons who have their own selfish desires to be satisfied! There are places we can go to do almost any activity now, ruining what few pristine areas left in our beautiful country! Please leave our wild lands just as they are!
