Comments: Sigh. I'm just sad about the divisiveness. If only we could establish that certain linking connector trails need to become multi use and also designed to accommodate all forms. But also come to a consensus on what e level is too much like atv power level to keep safely on non motorized areas. Could more people get sane so as to discuss what makes sense for all relevant trail types? Probably not. We are stuck in the era of me mine only and screw you, you go away from my culture/spirituality .

Yep. Evils really got us at each other's throats and fighting over absolutes.

Maybe stop giving in to that cr-p, people.
