Comments: My dog and I have had numerous negative experiences with e-bike riders in a city setting, including near misses. Personally, I'm tired of this "it's only a bike" attitude. Imagine getting struck by a 150 pound sack of cement encased in a metal frame at a high speed. Our poor, poor planet is much too close to her tipping point for us to be enacting policies that will only serve to push her over the edge. We must preserve whatever precious little pristine wilderness remaining and re-wild much of that stolen from the animal nations. And when we are recreating in wild spaces, we must remember we are guests in the animals' homes and act in a respectful manner. E-bikes have no place in this equation.
