Comments: Living in a state that is over 80% public lands, I understand the importance of sharing the land. I am a hiker and XC skier. I share the land with mountain bikes and snowmobiles as regulations allow and have encountered many dangerous situations with both. Diving out of the way from high speed motorized and non motorized vehicles, witnessing wildlife being killed by collisions, and littering are just a few of the examples. I am a strong advocate for wildlife. E-bikes are clearly a motorized vehicle and need to be kept in areas where only motorized vehicles can go. Wildlife populations have been decimated in the last few decades - how much more will be tolerated? I believe that wildlife should have areas where no one should be allowed - including hikers and skiers as well as motorized vehicles. E-bikes should only be allowed where motorized vehicles are allowed and that is on designated roads, not trails or wilderness.
