Comments: Thank you for the opportunity to comment. I support the clarification on ebike classifications (not all are equal) and linking their use to the Trail Management Objectives (TMO). The reality is that some terrain (like extensive step and run boardwalk) that has limited bike use before is now fair game with the advent of ebikes.

So I have been seeing bikes where I never have before! Technical riding has just improved exponentially. I have never ridden an ebike but I also have concerns about the compatibility of ebike and regular bikes on single track trails due to the potential speed differences.
