Comments: Hello,

I am an avid bicyclist and also own property in the Michigan UP that borders National Forest land. I have booked from Seattle to Mexico and Chicago to NYC. I road bike, mountain bike, and fat tire bike. I am all for people getting out and biking. However, I am 100% against electric bikes on any trail. They are dangerous! They typically travel at higher speed in a more consistent rate. They are able to come up on cyclists and hikers quickly and startle them. I would also think they would be harder on the trails.
