Comments: Please do not allow e-bikes in national forests. Seems to me that paved paths would have to be built in forests in order to serve e-bikes and that is not what should be happening in a national forest. E-bikes are for rail-trails, not land managed to husband nature. Although, yeah, I know, the Forest Service's goal isn't to husband nature, as long as timbering is going on, but anyway...let the animals and hikers be at peace in our forests. I'm a (non e-bike) biker myself as well as a hiker and I don't even want to encounter mountain bikers in national forests. Hiking and hikers do enough to affect the landscape, let alone bikers in forests.
