Comments: I totally support the use of electric cars and bikes but e-bikes do not belong in the forest. People will ride them off trail and claim they are just like mountain bikes which they are not. People can get injured and animals will be hurt. Important habitat will also be destroyed. If the bikes are only used on paved roads and held to a strict low speed limit it might work but I don't think people will obey the laws. They don't with cars and they won't with the e-bikes either.
