Comments: No, I'm against it. there are already trails for bicycles. To me the motorized bicycle falls in that category. They have over 60,000 miles of trails and roads to ride already. The horse people are restricted to only a few trails to ride and then the trails are not maintained. They say they are and you get in there and you have to turn around on a narrow trail. What will happen on these trails if your horse spooks from one of these bicycle. Who will be responsible for any injuries or loss of animals. We have already lost our horse camps to the motor cycles and 4 wheelers. Why do we have to give up everything?
