Comments: I ride horses on public lands and national forrests on a weekly basis and have for many years.

Electric bikes on a horse or hiking trail would be very dangerous for the bike rider and the hiker and horses.

Motorized vehicles whether electric or gas are very dangerous when they come upon hikers and horses riders because they are often traveling at significant speeds so there often is not enough time for the hikers or horse back riders to get out of their way. This can result in major accidents and has in fact happened in the past with unmotorized bicycles.
