Comments: I oppose allowing e-bikes where motorized vehicles have historically been banned. It seems terribly unsafe to have a speeding vehicle, silent or not, heading toward me at up to 30mph when I'm hiking or riding my horse. I seriously doubt anyone will be enforcing speed limits.

Also, it seems to me that an e-bike rider will travel much further than a standard bike rider. This will make it even more difficult to avoid them.

Also, I have a very active, healthy relative who just got e-bikes for himself & his wife because they are fast & easy. Seems to disprove any claim that most e-bikes would be used by disabled or older people.
