Comments: I am opposed to the changes in directives concerning e bikes on public land. I view it as a step in the wrong direction, a step toward making preserved land areas even more accessible to humans, leading to more destruction by said humans. Also, it will cost precious tax dollars to implement any changes. In the case of preserved land and wilderness areas, less progress is better progress. There will always more and more people because of population increase. Only God can create more land so we must preserve and protect what we have, there will be no more.
