Comments: This will be a catastrophe the trail systems are managed very well and the configuration they are now there's an equal amount of ground for walking and horse people is an equal amount of ground just about four four wheelers outside of wilderness areas that is. If you allow electric vehicles under these trails for non-motorized travel that means we should be able to open up the wilderness areas to them outfitters should be able to use electric motors let's not open up this can of worms let's keep it the way it is
