Comments: I am an equestrian and ride in the Prescott National Forest about 2-3 times a week. I've been riding here for about 20 years. We frequently come across cyclists and hikers. Usually, there is no problem, but from time to time I run into a cyclist with headphones. They are usually unaware of the presence of my horse and me. Often they come very close to a collision with my horse. It is a sound issue and I feel that ebikes are another opportunity to cause collisions on the trails. Their sounds make it hard for the cyclist to hear what is happening ahead on the trails. As far as I know, there have been no near misses with ebike at PNF. But that could easily change. I am opposed to having ebikes on the "non-motorized trails" in the PNF.
