Comments: This is a terribly unsafe idea and will most likely result in serious injury to equestrians. Horses, by nature, are flight animals. When spooked or feel threatened, they run. I've been on plenty of hike/bike shared trails, and bikes come flying around corners without warning. They're undoubtedly going to surprise and spook horses. The horses age/experience/temperament and the riders experience will determine how bad the wreck is.

This is a terrible idea and people and horses will get hurt. Please combine hike/bike and hike/horse trails, but do NOT put bikes with horses. Please.
