Comments: As someone who rides a bike and horses I do not get why everybody is so up in arms. My E bike and every person I know that has one does not make any more noise than a regular bike. It doesn't really go any faster than a regular bike. Mind you have to pedal to get it to go and all it does is help you. It will not go or allow you to keep peddling after a certain speed. All they are doing with this is limiting who can use the trails because a lot of older people with bad knees now have E bikes. They allow the rest of us to go with her friends and keep up without bothering anyone else.
