Comments: As an avid hiker who often shares trails with cyclists I am against e-bikes on trails. I have been run off trails from many inconsiderate cyclists behind me. They gave no warning and offered no apology, not to mention checking to see if I was okay. Fortunately, I suffered no more than a skinned knee or twisted ankle. I can only think of the older hikers or children out there who could really be hurt and stranded if e-bikes were allowed on trails.
