Comments: I am an equestrian, an outdoor lover, a biker, a hiker, bird watcher, and appreciate nature where it is found. I do not feel the e bike is a good idea to mix within the trails that allow horses. It is possible, no probable that the approach of a bike will disturb the mood of the horse from relaxed to a full out of control reaction to something the animal could not identify or recognize. Even the best tempered, best trained do not expect something that is approaching from the rear and fight or flight is the instinct that will be displayed. Please do not give in the pressure of the wealthy manufacture. In Florida that sandy soil is not suitable for the bike, but I submit that it is not a good idea.
