Comments: Any vehicle with an electric motor (i.e. and e-bike) is a motorized vehicle. Period. All electric motors are, in fact, motors, and that is non-negotiable. All e-bikes should fall in the same category as other motorized bikes. A dirt bike and an "e-bike" should be required to stay off of the same trails, and riders obey the same rules. Any motorized methods of travel should be considered "motorized", regardless of whether the motor is electronic, nuclear, pneumatic, steam, internal combustion, or anything that isn't 100% fueled by human power. Please DO NOT make the mistake of allowing motorized (e-bikes) vehicles on our non-motorized trails. Doing so would take away more opportunity for solitude for those who are willing to hike or bike, and allow further human intrusion into wild places with less effort.
