Comments: I have never commented on items of this nature till now. Not sure as a lifelong outdoor enthusiast and backpacker that this would be a consideration especially where the "leave no trace" way of enjoying the wilderness comes into play. Non-motorized is just that. E-bikes, while powered by electric battery are still motorized and can travel up to nearby 30mph. Why not allow mopeds? Where do we stop? Leave the e-bikes in urban areas, really no common sense reason to allow them.
