Comments: I have grown-up enjoying the mountains, wilderness, trails, and all that our public lands have to offer. More and more I find that our public lands are being destroyed by heavy use. To find the spaces that don't have as many people, I have to go to higher elevations. While I want all public lands to be able to be accessed by people, I do not want electric bicycles along the trails. This would make it nearly impossible to find spaces with nobody for miles. I am against e-bikes on trails.
