Comments: It is absolutely mind blowing that we are still destroying our planet for profits. Don't the Uber wealthy already have enough? Why is it that we can't see the destruction humans are causing on our planet and at least attempting to make a difference. I for one do not agree with mining for gold to produce even more cell phones and wiring to further advance our technology. It is unnecessary as we are plenty evolved and could be focusing on saving our planet and providing a quality of life to those who are being put out by this kind of industry.
