Comments: Please, please, please don't do this. When you look at all the beauty in this one place how can you see the potential of destroying it for mining? We need to recognize what destroying this land will mean. The destruction of not only God's natural beauty but the wildlife, the ecosystem and homes to such diverse species. How can we say we have the right to kill the abundance of wildlife that presides here. From the soil to the tops of the trees, from the unground insects to the birds soaring in the sky. We can not fail them. We cannot take away their home. We cannot be the destruction of so much life and beauty. Please. Do not follow through with this.
